His sisters hearing a shot rushed to his room and found Dapray unconscious, a revolver near his outstretched hand. Three physicians were summoned. MUST HAVE RATE RAISE

Intelligent and adequate and immediate action is taken, threatens the downfall of the whole economic situation.

Representatives of the carriers advanced figures to show that the operating expenses of the railroads this year would absorb practically all of the surplus earnings and that the proposed 15 per cent advance in rates would cover the great rise in the cost of operating necessities.

Samuel Rae, president of the Pennsylvania system, told the commission that if the 15 per cent increase were granted it would bring a return from all commodities, with the exception of anthracite coal, of $142,000,000 to the Eastern railroads, and at the same time the indicated increased costs in operation will be $27,000,000—leaving a deficit of $75,000,000 after the relief sought was granted.

War Prices for Coal.

Railroads in the East have been forced to compete with the West in paying war prices for coal, the commission was told. A quarter of all of the coal mined in the United States is purchased by the railroads for locomotive fuel, and every 10 cent a ton advance this year approximately $15,000,000 to the fuel bills of the carriers.

An increase of 15 per cent in freight rates on the New Haven system would be more than absorbed by the increased cost of coal alone, President Howard Elliott, of the New Haven, said. He also said that his lines had been pressed by coal costs to a greater extent than most of the Eastern lines.

Figures were produced to show that coal costs to the Eastern carriers last year were $104,000,000 and that this year they would be about $162,000,000, based on an average increase of 24 cents a ton. All ranks of railroad men have received advances in wages during the year, it was shown. It was put forth that the Adamson law had added $26,000,000 to the annual Eastern payroll, and other increases, made necessary to retain the workers, had added $10,000,000 to the total payroll $33,000,000, with a total increase in the cost of employees of $69,000,000, or approximately a 10 per cent increase in wages.

Advance 40 Per Cent.

Prices of railroad materials and equipment have advanced about 50 per cent. A. W. Thompson, of the Baltimore & Ohio Railroad, told the commissioners. Materials which last year cost $200,000,000 at present rates cost $300,000,000. He said that the railroads have been forced to advance prices for materials and equipment at the normal rate with current prices, Thompson declared.

Conservative estimates of the increase of operating costs to the Eastern roads were fixed at $27,000,000, which is a figure exceeding by $40,000,000 the entire surplus above dividends earned in the record year of 1916, the officials declared. They also added that new rolling stock, cars and locomotives, will mean increased costs of from 50 to 100 per cent.

Pointing out the steady rise in the cost of transportation, the representatives of the carriers said that they had been making stationary for some years. Although the year 1916 was the greatest in the history of railroad earnings, the net income on the $5,000,000,000 invested in the Eastern roads was only $45 per cent. Average income of record gross earnings of the past four years have been but 5 per cent, the railroad executives claimed.

"Shippers are willing to pay the bill if given the service," said the representatives of the Erie. He pointed out that no complaints are received over the freight rates, but that innumerable protests are lodged because of the lack of adequate freight service.

President Underwood calculated that the increase in operating expenses for his road during the present year would aggregate 15.55 per cent. He said that therefore the 15 per cent increase in freight rates was absolutely necessary to enable the system to meet its obligations. He declared that plans for new terminals at New York, Youngstown, and Cleveland, have had to be abandoned for the present because the falling off in earnings has injured the credit of the road to such an extent that high rates have to be paid for money borrowed for these projects.

Fifteen per cent advance in freight rates would not alleviate or remedy, but merely aid the New York Central, President A. H. Smith told the board. He said that operating costs on his road have been boosted about forty-five millions of dollars this year by general advances in materials, fuel, and labor. He added that for the efficient conduct of the business of the road it would also be necessary to make an expenditure of $150,000,000 this year.

Today the hearings will be continued, and it is predicted that the decision of the Interstate Commerce Commission in the case will follow close on the heels of the adjustment.

Even Police Not Exempt
From Thifty Thieves

If you don't think the thieves around the city are getting too fresh, look at the police blotter of the past week.

Three days ago, they stole a horse and cab from in front of a saloon at Eleventh and E streets northwest—a life-size horse and cab.

Just as if that wasn't enough, some low thief actually stole Park Policeman Leroy's bicycle from the curb in front of Police Court yesterday.

HORSE SHOW OPENING

country are here, whereas, heretofore, there would be two or three really good stables that would take most of the prizes. There is very little, if any, danger of this happening this year.

Philadelphia and New York Vie.

There were sixteen classes on yesterday's program about evenly divided between the hunters, harness and saddle horses. In the harness events Judge William H. Moore of New York, took two blues and one second, but was crowded constantly by Miss Constance Vaulain, of Philadelphia. The keenest rivalry existed between these two stables, and while in the past the Judge has been a very consistent winner in the harness events, it is stated that he will be pressed harder than ever before by the horses in Miss Vaulain's stable.

The feature of the day was the saddle pony class, for riders under 15 years of age, won by Miss Martha Lamar Ellis, a beautiful little girl, 7 years old, who rode an equally pretty pony, right named Beauty Spot, for it was not much larger than a spot. There were nine entries in this event, there was no doubt that the little girl, with her blond curls sticking out from beneath her riding cap, on the frisky little cream-colored pony would easily take first prize, and as she rode around the arena she received round after round of applause from the boxes and stands. The prize was presented by William Eric Fowler. After receiving the cup the little girl made the pony dance as the band played.

In the harness events, the ladies' phaeton class proved by far the most interesting, all of the entries being driven by women. The winner was Miss Constance Vaulain, driving The Whip, taking first prize over Judge William H. Moore's horse, Bountiful, driven by Mrs. Billy Hitt, formerly Katherine Elkins.

Ideal Mathias, owned by A. W. Atkinson, and driven by Miss B. Webb, took the third prize in this event. The winner in this class also received a handsome silver cup presented by the New Willard Hotel.

Army Officers Events.

The military hunting class, open to officers of the regular military establishments was won by Victor, owned by Lieut. Col. Fenton, while Staunton, with Capt. H. N. Cootes, was second. This event was judged by Maj. Gen. Leonard Wood.

W. P. Hulbert took the blue ribbon in the light-weight polo pony class with his Rondo, while Winnie, owned by W. H. Guleck, was second and Shampoo third.

In the green hunter class, Aldershot proved to be best in taking the hurdles over the field of some 31 thoroughbreds. Oh Boy, ridden by Arthur White, captured the second prize in this event, while Storme, ridden by one of Washington's best horsewomen, Miss Mildred Greble, was third. Oh Boy, with White up, also captured the blue ribbon in the thoroughbred hunter class, with Aldershot and Rock Creek running second and third respectively.

Today's program, which starts at 2 o'clock, will be as follows: Standard bred stallions; ladies' road saddle horse; novice harness horse; pony race; road saddle horse; novice hunters; McMurray cup; harness horse; free-for-all for hunters; ladies' hunters; polo ponies; green hunters and army teams.

AMERICA SOON TO KNOW FULL NEEDS OF ALLIES
Commissioners in Long Conferences with U. S. Officials.

America will have full details by the end of this week of the supplies needed by the allies which are expected from this country.

Subcommittees of the British mission worked all day yesterday gathering data for the needs of the allied countries, and completing their survey. It has been necessary for them to cable to Europe for further information.

Arthur James Balfour, head of the mission, yesterday afternoon held a long conference with the three delegates of the British labor bodies now in Washington—Charles W. Bowdman, J. H. Thomas, and H. W. Garrett. Samuel Gompers, president of the American Federation of Labor, also was present at the conferences.

It was announced that the conference was but a general discussion, covering the plans put into effect by the English government in co-operation with organized labor for the expedition of war work.

Today at 12:30 o'clock Mr. Balfour will be received at the United States Senate and will make a short address in which he will congratulate the United States on its entrance into the war and the dispatch of nine regiments of engineers to France, ordered yesterday.

Last night Representative Medill McCormick, of Illinois, gave a dinner in honor of Mr. Balfour.

GRAIN "SQUARE DEAL" SOUGHT BY BREWERS
Restriction Unjust, It Is Asserted—Consumption for Liquors Small Percentage.

A hearing on the bill to prevent the manufacture of grain into alcohol, liquor was given a delegation representing the brewers of the United States, headed by Gustave Pabst, by the Senate agricultural committee yesterday.

The delegation submitted a report showing that the actual amount of grain entering into the manufacture of beer represented less than three-quarters of 1 per cent of the grain produced in the United States, that the barley used was not a staple human food here or abroad.

The report went on to say that the area of land required to produce the grain used in brewing was less than seven one-hundredths of the total of all land under cultivation in the country, and the brewers argued that the industry was not a factor to be considered in the food conservation plan.

The members of the delegation pledged themselves and the interests they represented to assist the government in all regulations for the conduct of the liquor traffic and offered in any way, asking only that they be given a fair deal and public policy.

War Strengthens Evangelism.
That the world war has served to enlist mankind more fully in the cause of their countries, but to bring into their lives more fully the relationship of personal evangelism, will be the subject of an address to be delivered tomorrow night at a meeting of the Vermont Avenue Christian Church by Dr. James S. Montgomery.

First Night at the Theaters

Belasco—Mask and Wig Club in

"Mr. Rip Van Winkle."

The most gorgeous and brilliant of the Mask and Wig Club's annual musical shows, "Mr. Rip Van Winkle," played at the Belasco Theater last night and received the enthusiastic endorsement of a distinguished audience with society largely represented. None of the University of Pennsylvania boys' previous productions have contained such delightful features, tuneful airs, and sprightly dances.

The story runs that Old Black Joe holds the secret of eternal youth. Mr. Rip Van Winkle, in old age and bad health, hears of it and goes to visit Joe. Two young relatives of Rip, who want their uncle to die and leave them his sole heirs, endeavor to prevent the meeting, but the secret is made known to a young agent through Joe's simple receipt that "You should never be without a smile."

Joseph G. Carpenter was gracefully assisted in one could sympathize with Winfield T. Dougherty in telling his love in song. Raymond D. Stevens was fine as Joe, and Sylvan H. Hirsch told us very effectively that we are "but marionettes" in the hands of fate.

The superb dancing of the many pretty girls and dashing men in the chorus, as always, rightfully received the greatest applause. "My Guatemalan Girl" was a delightful feature, and "Marionettes" was especially skillfully executed. The experienced hand of Charles S. Morgan was visible in their movements.

Charles Gilpin, the indefatigable Mask and Wig composer, has contributed numerous hitting melodies, and the two settings added a great deal to the delight of the audience. "Mr. Rip Van Winkle" was indeed a most enjoyable and lively affair.

Poli's—"Camille."

Washington's theater audiences have not forgotten how to weep. At least it was demonstrated at Poli's last night, when Alexander Duma's "Camille," the story of a French demi-mondaine or lady of the Camellias, was presented for the first time in several years.

Miss Florence Rittenhouse is called upon to do a hard day's work. She must be the cheerful courtesan one minute and a gasping consumptive the next.

She succeeded admirably, evidenced by the number of curtain calls. Ahly supposing her being in the theater to be the love of Camille, William P. Carleton divided the honors.

"Camille" is the old, old story of the fallen woman, who seemingly on the verge of ruin, is called upon to sacrifice the very essence of her happiness by the father of her lover, who demands the release of his son from a promise of marriage. All Camille's air castles are crashed to the ground.

As the story ends, the career of Camille, but not until he learns of the sacrifice of the woman he loved and lost.

Mention must be made of Howard Lang as Count De Varville, Garry McGarry as Gustave, Francis Williams as Nanine, the maid of Camille. Others in the cast creditably carried their parts.

B. F. Keith's—Vaudeville.

A bill of excellence is presented at B. F. Keith's Theater this week. From the opening number to the end of the Hearst-Pathe News Pictorial, there is not a dull moment nor an indifferent act. Phyllis Johnson-Terry, the English actress, who is singing in support of the late Sir Henry Irving and Sir Beerbohm Tree, is the leading attraction. Her blond beauty, superb grace and magnetism have made her one of the most brilliant young actresses of the day.

She sings a number of songs, specially adapted to her lovely voice, and supported by her own London company, gives Ophelia's mad scene from "Hamlet" with an entirely new and thrilling interpretation. Her Ophelia is pitiful and appealing in her girlish charm, and she strikes a human note which takes the character out of the accepted type of Elizabethan drama.

"The Lincoln Highwayman," presented by Paul Dickey and company, and written by Mr. Dickey himself, lives up to its title of a "motor drama with double ignition." The story is a thrilling one, and the police, a girl reporter, secret service men and a beautiful Irish setter are gloriously mixed up for fifteen breathless minutes with a big surprise for the denouement.

And, incidentally, there's a wonderful red roadster in the act, which makes the owners of Fords—and some other cars—sigh with envy.

Of special interest is D'Avigne's Chinese Duo, which features Tsing Cheong, a singer with a magnificent voice, whose repertoire includes popular American melodies and grand opera classics. Assisting him in Fook Lok, a Chinese wizard of ratième.

Francis Crumplit, of the infectious smile and contagious humor, contributes a "One Man Glee Club" which scores an instant hit. Mr. Crumplit has a rich Southern voice which reminds one of the old-time minstrel shows.

He has a stock of humorous stories. With a guitar and ukelele, for an accompaniment, he sings a number of Southern songs and completes his act with the choruses of melodies that were

FOR THOSE WHO SUFFER Pain in Stomach, Back or Joints.
(By Samuel Hamilton, M. D.)

In recent years investigation by means of X-rays, the observations of scientists such as Cannon, Gutzner, Pavlov, Fowler, Hawk, prove that an abundance of water is necessary in good bodily housekeeping. To drink a pint of hot water before meals is good practice, and those suffering from catarrhal condition of the stomach will find benefit in adding about to grains (one-sixth of a level teaspoonful of baking-soda, drinking it an hour before each meal.

If your kidneys are sick, or you suffer with lumbago or rheumatism at times, pain in the back or back of the neck, take a little Anuric before meals. Anuric (double strength) can be found at any good drug store, and was first discovered by Dr. Pierce, of the Surgical Institute in Buffalo, N. Y.

When run-down, when life indoors has brought about a stagnant condition in the circulation—most every one is filled with uric acid—especially this is so of people past middle age. This uric acid in the blood often causes rheumatism, lumbago, swelling of hands or feet, or a bag-like condition under the eyes. Backache, frequent urination or the pains and stiffness of the joints and high blood-pressure are also often noticed.

Every one should drink plenty of pure water and exercise in the open air as much as possible. I have found that Anuric is an antidote for this uric acid poison and that it will dissolve the accumulation of uric acid in the body much as hot water dissolves sugar.—Adv.

The song hits of the hour in days gone by. Dainty Marie gives a wonderful performance "way up in the air" posing, singing and dancing while she hangs from a thread-like support above the footlights. A pleasing song and dance act is contributed by Henry Sylvester and Maida Vance, the latter wearing some of the loveliest gowns seen in Vaudeville.

Webb and Burns, have an Italian minstrel show of their own which is particularly clever and melodious, and Selma Brains performs marvelous juggling feats with firebrands.

Cosmos—Vaudeville.
Girls, girls and then more girls, but girls who can sing and dance and gaily sport themselves in all sorts of costumes as familiar nursery characters are the striking feature of "Mother Goose," perhaps the most pretentious musical extravaganza ever staged at the Cosmos as at the Avenue vaudeville house this week.

As a striking contrast there is J. C. Mack, one of the funniest comedians in popular vaudeville, as Mother Goose. Three acts and five scenes are needed for his story, which amuses the children and many of the grownups as well.

The bill opens with a novel act, the Pelots, Fred and Annie, in "Fun at the Inn," an amusing nondescript. The O'Neill Sisters, pleasing singers and dainty dancers, are an attractive feature. While Ben Smith's blackface minstrel with an unusual, high tenor voice and a fund of merriment wins storms of applause with his amusing act. One of the brightest features of the bill is a novel comedy, "Just Married," presented by Nivellos and Reyes. "Fassion," the fifth of "The Seven Deadly Sins" series, featuring Shirley Mason, George Le Guere and Clifford Bruce furnishes a realistic lesson on the "Seven Deadly Sins" and a comedy film, "The Washbone," completes the program.

Moore's Strand—"The Girl Philippa."
Moore's Strand Theater was thronged all day yesterday, the principal attraction being the film star, Anita Stewart, in a presentation of Robert W. Chalmers' noted novel, "The Girl Philippa."

In "The Girl Philippa" Chalmers has used an atmosphere charged with secret agents, society intrigue and oppressive blood lust and woven into it the magic spell of his genius. As the sprightly, wholesome little heroine Miss Stewart radiates a spirit of joy and naturalness. "The Girl Philippa" will remain at the attraction until Thursday inclusive.

On Friday and Saturday Lionel Barrymore will be featured in a mystery photo-play, "The Millionaire's Double." It concerns a millionaire, who, reported dead, poses as the claimant to his own estate and falls in love with a young woman who poses as "his wife." There are many good dramatic twists to the story and the piece perfectly fits the personality of Barrymore. Other pictures are included on the daily program and special music by the Strand Symphony Orchestra adds greatly to the effectiveness of the various film plays.

Moore's Garden—Clara Kimball Young.
The crowded condition of Moore's Garden Theater yesterday attested the local popularity of Clara Kimball Young, who was pictured on the screen in her latest success, a visualization of Eugene Walter's powerful play, "The Eastway."

The play in its original form was a huge success and it does not a bit of its effectiveness before the camera. "The Eastway" is the story of an actress who in battles to win recognition accepts the influence of a wealthy man and is compelled to pay the price. Later she falls in love with a newspaper man, but he is too poor to marry, and he is out to make his fortune. While he is absent the actress again finds herself helpless, and is forced to the arms of her influential friend.

The newspaper man returns, and refuses to forgive a second time, which leads to the dramatic climax of the picture. Clara Kimball Young plays the role with charm and emotion. Surrounding Miss Young are an excellent cast, among them being Rockville Fellows, Joseph Kilgour and Cleo Desmond. "The Eastway" will run until Thursday inclusive, and on Friday and Saturday Viola Dana will be pictured in "God's Law and Man's," a dramatic film play. Other pictures are shown daily and the Garden Symphony Orchestra plays.

Somerset Vote a Tie.
Somerset, Md., May 7.—The election here today on the proposal to adopt the single tax system resulted in a tie vote. A. J. LaCroix and J. E. Swigart, councilmen, were re-elected for two years terms. The Somerset Board of the first municipality of the State to take advantage of the new law passed at the last session of the legislature allowing a vote on the single tax question. The vote was preceded by much argument.

Dr. Ferdinand King, a New York City Physician and Medical Author says:
"There can be no strong, vigorous, iron men nor beautiful, healthy, rosy-cheeked women without Iron—Nuxated Iron taken three times per day after meals will increase the strength and endurance of weak, nervous, run-down folks 100 per cent in two weeks' time in many instances. Avoid the old forms of metallic iron which may injure the teeth, corrode the stomach, and thereby do more harm than good. Take only organic Iron—Nuxated Iron." It is dispensed in this city by James O'Donnell's Drug Stores, People's Drug Stores, and all good druggists.—Adv.
